

Flood Update From Truckee Meadows Water Authority:

WATER SYSTEM IS IN GREAT SHAPE

February 27, 2006

Truckee Meadows Water Authority (TMWA) reports that there have been no impacts to the water system during the current flood situation. “Our water treatment plants and distribution system are in great shape,” said Lori Williams, general manager of the Water Authority.

“Our water treatment plants and operators are very capable of handling situations like this. Our experienced operators and crews are working round the clock to insure that the treatment plant and water system are all functioning normally,” she added.

If conditions change, we will post the latest information here.

For flood information from all governmental entities and utilities, please log on here:

www.yournevada.com